New technologies have changed the car industry. Global Positioning Systems (GPSs) can give people directions without using paper maps. Sensors are built into car warning systems. If a car gets too close to a person or another vehicle, it will make a sound. Cameras are useful at night to guide a car to avoid accidents.

Due to new technologies, cars can now park themselves, and take over control from drivers when they are about to make a dangerous turn. All these functions are controlled by computers. In some cases, you do not need to drive a car by yourself. Nowadays, car companies make auto-driving cars more and more.

Choose TRUE if the sentence is correct or FALSE if the sentence is not correct.

32.1 People must use GPS together with a paper map to find directions.	TRUE	FALSE
32.2 GPS helps drivers drive cars faster.	TRUE	FALSE
32.3 Sensors and cameras can help to prevent car accident.	TRUE	FALSE
32.4 We will see more auto-driving cars in the future.	TRUE	FALSE

33.

Insects are important because they are food for other animals. They also carry pollen between flowers to allow reproduction of new plants. Without insects, it would be hard for people to grow crops and many animals would die.

There is a new study, which reported that the number of insects is falling. There have been 2.5 percent less insects every year recently. If this goes on, there will be 25 percent less insects in less than 10 years. This would be a big problem.

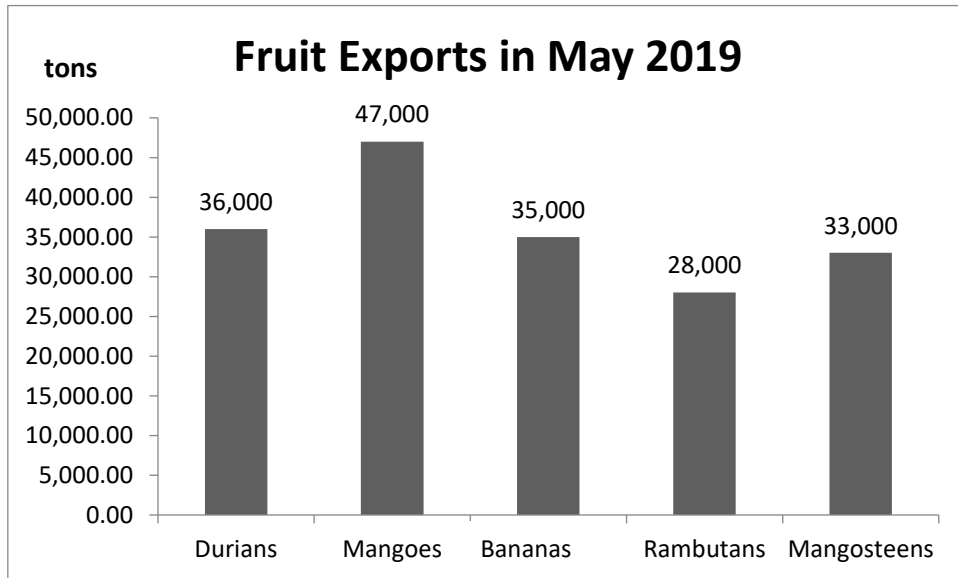

From: News in Levels

Choose TRUE if the sentence is correct or FALSE if the sentence is not correct.

33.1 Insects help increase the number of trees.	TRUE	FALSE
33.2 Insects don't help people to grow crops.	TRUE	FALSE
33.3 There will likely be more insects in the future.	TRUE	FALSE
33.4 If there are no insects, other lives will be in trouble.	TRUE	FALSE
